Dear Allen:

Your letter was a very welcome one and I thank you most sincerely for it.

I had never contemplated service with the State Department and I must confess that I take on the new job with a great deal of humility. The fact that you and a great many others have expressed confidence in me adds to the courage which I think I shall badly need.

I am sure that in my new responsibilities I will have close contacts with the Central Intelligence Agency, and I look forward very much to working with you and your staff.

Sincerely yours,

Roger W. Jones
